Thank you for your generous support of the 2017 Sunshine Coast Junior Eisteddfod.

50th Anniversary

I would like to welcome the competitors and their supporters to our 50th Sunshine Coast Junior Eisteddfod.

In 1967 a small committee, led by Mr John James, recommenced the Nambour Eisteddfod after a lapse of 18 years. 542 students entered the following sections - Piano, Vocal, Brass Instrumental, Art of Speech, Improvisation, Mime and Drama. Max Olding was the music adjudicator and Beverley Langford the speech adjudicator. The following year, dance was added and was included for two years before holding their own event.

In the early nineties, the eisteddfod had grown so large there was a need to divide into different sections. Brass and Woodwind was included in 1991 and the others followed in the next few years.

Today more than 6000 students cross the stage to perform in a supportive and encouraging environment.

During the past 50 years the eisteddfod has operated with a small committee and an army of dedicated volunteers who are without doubt the lifeblood of this organisation. Our convenors and committee members have always assisted on an honorary basis. We have existed over the years through the generosity of sponsors, plus the income derived from entry fees, ticket and program sales and advertising in our program.

If you would like to assist in future events, please contact one of the convenors.

To conclude our 50th year celebrations, I invite you to join us in our Gala Concert on Sunday 13th August commencing at 2.00pm in the Matthew Flinders Performance Centre showcasing outstanding performances from the 2017 eisteddfod.

Kind Regards
Jenny Thomas
